

SOFTWARE INTEGRATION SERVICE

OVERVIEW

In today's world of cloud first strategies, many businesses are looking to integrate solutions. Why? Because data is key.

Businesses need to be resilient, ahead of the game, and more transparent to be able to grow and be compliant regardless of the business size. So, whether that is to connect the dots to reduce administration time, or to give business-wide insight to help strategic planning, data is becoming a top priority for many.

To help, we provide three options:

Self-Serve – for you to consume APIs to build, test and deploy your own integration solution.

Standard Integration Service – we manage a standard integration end to end which includes:

- Initial discovery of requirements
- Formal scope involving the 3rd party software supplier
- Build to best practice framework
- Deployment and support
- Maintenance and monitoring

Technical Integration Service – for those who may have more bespoke needs. We will provide consultancy to scope requirements where your HR system needs to be integrated with multiple systems and data requires complex manipulations. All built using Microsoft Azure's trusted and secure infrastructure.

Integration Technology

Self-Serve Technology – leveraging the functionality of Azure Integration Services and API Management, you can have access to a library of APIs with Swagger (the industry framework for describing and documenting REST APIs). It will allow you to access the latest authentication (OAuth), OData and graph QL. It will allow you to connect using modern security control.

There will be API's for:

- Management Information Systems
- Time and Attendance Systems
- Learning Management Systems
- Active Directory

Plus, many more to allow you autonomy when building your own integrations.

Integration Service - Technology: The two options managed by MHR, use Microsoft's Logic Apps. This cloud-based platform allows us to quickly develop highly scalable integration solutions with automated workflows. The framework we have built allows us to standardise the integrations making them simpler to build and support, reducing the risk of failure.

What does all this mean for you?

Modern technology: by using Microsoft Azure's technology, we are able to provide up-to-date integration solutions.

Zero maintenance: if MHR are managing the integration, then no set-up or fixes are required by you, we continually monitor and maintain.

Industry leading security: created and deployed through trusted Microsoft infrastructure.

Compliant: helps you to transfer data between systems appropriately to be GDPR compliant.

Future proofing: MHR and Microsoft constantly deploy new innovations and expand the service offering.

WHY MHR?

MHR solutions enable your excellence by strengthening resilience, improving adaptability and reducing operational complexity. You gain a suite of software and services that also nurtures and empowers your people, turns your data into insights and de-risks your business.
